The Eureka Home Dramatic com-

The Eureka Home Dramatic company gave an excellent rendition of the comedy drama "Because I Love You" at Odd Fellows' hall Friday night. Every seat was sold and the performance was away above the average of attractions that generally visit the camp. Mrs. Priscilla Stewart Taylor, the leading lady, is possessed of considerable ability as an emotional actress, and her work in the rehearsals bore good fruit, every member of the company rising to the occasion and taking the fullest advantage of every situation in the interpretation of their parts. The male members of the company were thoroughly drilled by Harry J. Beane, who gave a splendid interpretation of his character, and all of them were exceptionally good. The hit of the evening was made by Miss Ellen Enoch, a 6-year-old tot, who recited to the crowded house with the self-possession of a young lady of mature years. The performance Friday night was given for the benefit of the L. D. S. Sunday school, and netted about $70. It will be repeated Tuesday night.
